Post Mortem - Run # 1949

Hare: Loupy assisted by Crackle Snaffler

Hashers: Justin Tyme, Gully Bull, Tumbleweed, Beast, Snake Hips, Good 'n' ard, Bog snaffler, Goldfish, Charlie.

Venue: Sharpitor pond carpark

We arrived at the pond in the rain which had just started before our hares had set off to lay their live trail. Luckily for us the rain stopped and we ditched the jackets just before 7:30. We set off uphill of course, following a clear trail of generous dots not pausing to admire the misty view. Unusually the clear and generous dots continued for the whole trail. Crackle must have supplied the sawdust.

There was a fair amount of up and down before Snake Hips and Beast magically appeared at the top of Sharpitor with pockets full of sweets for the regroup. Newcomer Charlie couldn't stomach any more after refuelling on Haribo before the run and Good n ard complained about being thirsty. He must have been taunted by the view of the reservoir between the clouds.

We set of again downhill before ending up back at the top for a scramble across Leather Tor. Somehow the hares still had ample supplies of sawdust left and the trail kept going for another loop where Crackles car could be seen getting towed away into the distance. Anything to avoid being caught.

The Walkhampton provided the chips and drinks to wash the fruit pastels down. Goldfish had a bowl of chips to himself for once in the absence of Dallas and Pherognome but foolishly decided to share anyway.

On On,

Gullybull
